DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1, 4-7, 11, and 12, drawn to a manufacturing method of a multilayer film optical member.

Group II, claim(s) 2 and 3, drawn to a manufacturing method of a multilayer film optical member.

Group III, claim(s) 8, 10, and 14, drawn to optical members.

Group IV, claim(s) 9, drawn to a multilayer film optical member.

Group V, claim(s) 13, drawn to a multilayer film optical member.

Group VI, claim(s) 15, drawn to a polarization beam splitter.

Group VII, claim(s) 16 and 17, drawn to a manufacturing method of a multilayer film optical member.

Group VIII, claim(s) 18 and 19, drawn to a manufacturing method of a multilayer film optical member.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-VIII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

- a. Group I has the special technical features "with a transparent conductive film disposed on each of the transparent substrates" and curing the liquid crystal material "while applying an electrical field."

Art Unit: 1794

b. Group II has the special technical feature of curing the liquid crystal material "while holding in a magnetic field."

c. With regard to Group III, in light of the international search report the claims fail to define a contribution over the cited references in terms of inventive step, and therefore these claims fail to constitute a special technical feature. Please note that original claim 8 was multiple-dependent, and therefore comprises the limitations of applicant's new claim 10.

d. Group IV has the special technical feature of a "plurality of liquid crystal layers;" further, the liquid crystal layers are not disclosed as being UV curable.

e. Group V has the special technical feature "different hardening conditions and layered cyclically."

f. Group VI has the special technical feature of a "polarization beam splitter," of which there is no disclosure in Group III that the device is capable of being a polarization beam splitter.

g. Group VII has the special technical feature of a separate "application step" in which the electric field is applied prior to the curing step.

h. Group VIII has the special technical feature of a separate "holding step" in which the magnetic field is applied prior to the curing step.

All of the special technical features mentioned above are not found throughout the Groups, and therefore the invention lacks unity.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
